Have you heard about the Satan Club trying to get started in Greensboro, NC?

No, it isn't a hoax! After school "Satan Clubs" have begun popping up all over the United States and parents are not happy about it. Recently, parents in Greensboro, NC held a protest after flyers were handed out to students at Joyner Elementary School advertising the after-school Satan Club.

The Satanic Temple is trying to establish a Satan Club at other schools in the same school district as Joyner Elementary School in Greensboro. According to the club's website they "meet at select public schools where Good News Clubs and other religious clubs meet". Parents of the Greensboro children gathered for a prayer rally and made it clear to the school that they do not want this club inside of this school or others!

Song lyrics in a video that can be found on the After-School Satan Clubs website state "Satan's not an evil guy. He wants you to learn and question why. He wants you to have fun and be yourself and by the way, there is no hell."

While Greensboro is fighting against the club getting started, so is a Pennsylvania elementary school. The Satanic Temple has filed a lawsuit against the school for refusing to host the club.
